++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy with outbreaks of rain.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain spreading across the country with some heavier bursts, leading to a cloudy and rather wet Christmas Day. Perhaps some snow later for higher parts of Snowdonia. Feeling cold in a strong and gusty southeasterly wind. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
More persistent rain, heavy at times, pushing northeast overnight, perhaps with some hill snow for Snowdonia. Showers will follow on, chiefly in the west. Winds easing. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Sunday:
A brighter day on Boxing Day with sunny intervals. Some occasional showers feeding in from the west in between, which may be heavy. Relatively mild in the south. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rather cloudy on Monday, with perhaps a little rain in the far south. Brighter on Tuesday before turning wet and windy on Wednesday. Becoming increasingly mild.
